Virus Scanning

FileFlex is zero-trust data access and collaboration solution. All organizations/companies are expected to maintain a good security posture for Anti-virus & Antimalware with a well-known industry-recognized security vendor and have basic endpoint security, & threat management best practices in place to protect their data and user endpoints. The fact that such security solutions exist on each end-point, any data that is uploaded or downloaded in either end-points will automatically be scanned by a local security solution already in place. FileFlex platform does not manipulate data and should not function as an anti-virus solution as it makes it redundant activity and can lead to data loss.
